Second, the student should be given as great freedom as possible in the choice of such subjects as shall be most nearly in line with his life purposes. Many students find themselves unable to do certain lines of school work well, whereas, in other lines they are able to maintain a high standard. This difficulty often results in a failure to complete the course and it is hoped that the new course may overcome this to some extent. N. B. Sloan. I3IFLOIVIAS Sixteen units constitute a high school course, upon the completion of which diplomas will be granted as follows: A Diplomas will be granted to students completing the eight required units with tight units selected from the elective subjects, any two in each year: Provided that students electing a language must pursue it for two years. B Diplomas will be granted to students completing...

Reviews

Extensive information for book fans. It is written in basic words and never hard to understand. It is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding, once you begin to read the book.
