Clerks should never be permitted to open letters addressed to officers or Sub-Assistants, nor to sign any documents for them by order or otherwise. 354. Officers are strictly prohibited from having money or other dealings with their subordinates, or with other persons within their official range, if such transactions are of a nature to place the officer under an obligation to them incompatible with perfect independence of official action. 365. When an officer wishes to dispose of valuable property, such as houses, carriages, c, to native purchasers in the district in which he is employed, he will report his intention to the Superintendent, who will use his discretion in allowing the transaction. 366. If the officer is not...
